

BOTH PARTY CHIEFS VOICE CONFIDENCE

STANDARD BEARERS OF LEADING PARTIES REMAIN QUIETLY AT HOMES

Willcox States Hughes Will Have Majority of 100 in the Electoral College—McCormick Claims 364
Electoral Votes for Wilson—Thirty-five States
Will Elect Governors—Nine States Will Vote on Prohibition.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—On the eve of the presidential election general confidence in the result of the balloting tomorrow was expressed in the camps of the rival Republican and Democratic forces. Political workers had completed their tasks, their leaders had issued the usual final forecasts and nothing remained but the work of bringing out the vote and then to get news of the result that will bring joy or gloom to one side or the other.

Tonight the standard bearers of the leading parties remained quietly at their homes. President Woodrow Wilson at Shadow Lawn and Charles E. Hughes at his hotel in New York. Surrounded only by immediate members of their families the candidates plan to receive the election returns at their homes.

Tomorrow Mr. Wilson will go to Princeton to vote at the old fire engine house near the Princeton campus.

Mr. Hughes will vote in a laundry near his hotel headquarters. The weather man has promised generally fair weather and moderate temperature in most part of the country for election and political leaders said this presaged the coming out of a record-breaking vote.

Officials to be elected tonight: President and vice president. Thirty-three United States senators.

Four hundred and thirty-five members of the house of representatives. Thirty-five governors.

Legislators and other minor state officers.

A number of states will vote on certain amendments, chiefly of local interest.

The states of Idaho, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Maryland, Arkansas, California, Nebraska, South Dakota, will however, vote on the prohibition question, an issue that has loomed up large on the political horizon for some years past. The territory of Alaska will also vote on this question. In Arizona an amendment for the abolition of capital punishment will be up for popular decision.

Woman's part in the presidential election is one of the outstanding features. In one quarter of the forty-eight states women have the vote this year. The twelve states are Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Arizona, Kansas, Oregon, Nevada, Montana and Illinois. The women in the last named six states have the vote for president this year for the first time. The interest political leaders take in this vote can be appreciated when it is seen that the states involved have ninety-one electoral votes, a little more than one-sixth of the electoral college's total vote.

One woman, Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana, is running for congress on the Republican ticket, and in California Mrs. Josephine Fernald of San Francisco is an aspirant for a seat in congress as a Democrat. If they are elected they will be the first women to win seats in the national house of representatives.

Another woman candidate for congress is Mrs. Frances Astell, Democrat, in the Second Washington district.

Hughes Confident of Victory.

New York, Nov. 6.—Confident he will be elected president tomorrow, Charles E. Hughes went to a treator tonight and retired early after a quiet day. The Republican nominee will be up bright and early tomorrow morning to cast his ballot at a polling place in a laundry not far from the hotel where he has established a legal residence since he was nominated. Mr. Hughes had no comment to make tonight on the prospects.

Mr. Hughes will receive the returns at his hotel tomorrow night by telephone from the headquarters of the Republican national committee. With him will be members of his family.

Claims Wilson Will Win.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 6.—After going over with President Wilson optimistic messages from all parts of the country, Secretary Tumulty tonight claimed the president would win tomorrow's election and would have 387 votes in the electoral college. He did not give a list of the states on which he based his prediction.

The president spent the day quietly at Shadow Lawn, going out for a short time for a game of golf. To those who saw him he expressed complete satisfaction over the prospects for tomorrow's voting. The president will be up soon after day-break tomorrow morning to go to Princeton to vote. He will make the trip by automobile, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, and expects to be back at Shadow Lawn in time for lunch.

The president will receive the returns by telephone from Secretary Tumulty, who will remain in the executive offices in Asbury Park, where elaborate arrangements have been made for receiving election news. Only Mrs. Wilson and other members of his immediate family will be with the president.

A summary of the messages received at the executive offices given out here tonight said that "many of conservative judgment unqualifiedly predict a landslide and greater optimism prevails at Shadow Lawn than at any period of the campaign."

Issue Election Eve Chimes.

New York, Nov. 6.—Election eve claims of victory at the polls tomorrow were made tonight by Vance C. McCormick and William R. Willcox, chairman of the Democratic and Republican national committees.

Before starting for his home in Harrisburg to vote, Mr. McCormick declared there was a fighting chance of President Wilson to have the electoral votes of Utah and one or two other hitherto rock-ribbed Republican states in addition to the 364 votes he already has claimed.

He will return to this city in time to superintend receiving election returns tomorrow night.

"On this closing day of the campaign," said Chairman Willcox, "I confidently state that the battle has been won for Hughes and Fairbanks and that they will be elected by a majority or not less than 100 in the electoral college."

Several Hundred Guardsmen Vote.

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 6.—Several hundred federalized National Guardsmen on the border in Brownsville district already have cast their ballots for tomorrow's election. It was learned here today, and the votes under seal are now on their way to the home states of the guardsmen voting. Among these are the Virginia troops, who have been balloting for several days by mail.

Other federalized guardsmen who have voted include the following:

Troop A, Kansas Cavalry, stationed at Donna, Texas; Fourth South Dakota Infantry, stationed at San Benito; North Dakota guardsmen at Llano Grande. Troops in this district which have not yet voted include Iowa, New York and Minnesota.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Both Republican and Democratic campaign managers claimed Illinois by 150,000 on the eve of election tonight. After receiving final reports from every county in the state, both Fred E. Sterling, Republican state chairman and Arthur W. Charles, Democratic state chairman, announced that they were more confident than ever of success and they declined to change their figures given out last Saturday. It is estimated there are 1,800,000 voters in Illinois, including 600,000 women, who cast their first vote for president at tomorrow's election. Party leaders expect that between 80 and 90 per cent of the registered vote will be cast. The woman's vote is one of the elements in the election which is puzzling the political managers. Both the Republican and Democratic leaders claim a majority of this vote which in the event of a close contest may be the deciding factor. Chicago which has 808,119 voters registered, 504,421 men and 303,698 women, is being watched with apprehension by party leaders who admit that the presidential candidate who carries the city by a large plurality is almost certain to sweep the state. The Republican managers claim Chicago by 55,000 while the Democratic leaders expect to carry the city by 75,000. The normal Republican plurality in the state is between 75,000 and 150,000.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 6.—Henry Wersting was nominated by the Republican state committee to fill the vacancy in the Republican ballot caused by the suicide today of Frank B. Ruhr, Republican nominee for presidential elector from the tenth Missouri district.

The nomination of Kersting was made late today in the official ballot and Republican voters will be urged to write in the name. The death of Mr. Ruhr and the eleventh hour nomination of Mr. Kersting, it is thought, will result in a division of the Republican vote for elector from the tenth district and even if Hughes carries the state it is possible a Democrat will be elected in the tenth district. In that event Missouri would cast 17 votes for Hughes and one for Wilson.

One hundred and eighty thousand slips, containing the name of Kersting for elector were printed to night and will be sent to the St. Louis polling places tomorrow morning. The judges will be instructed to paste them on the ballots. A heavy vote is expected thruout Missouri tomorrow. The registration in St. Louis is more than 173,000—the biggest in the history of the city.

War News Summarized

After a week or more of doubt concerning operations in the Dobrudja region of Roumania, where the Teutonic allies had been marching almost unimpeded northward from the black sea to the Danube, comes the report that the Roumanians have taken the offensive, probably aided by Russians and compelled the enemy to retreat at several points. On the Transylvania front, however, the Roumanians in the Jiu Valley, who for some time had been holding the upper hand over the Austro-Germans, forcing them to give ground, have not been stopped, the Teutons having brought up reinforcements. In the federal pass region, after heavy fighting, the Roumanians also have met with a reverse, being compelled to retreat after long and stubborn battles.

All along the line of battle in France between the Somme and Andre rivers, the Germans are tenaciously disputing attempts by the British and French to gain further ground. Berlin says that in Sunday's fighting over a front of twelve miles the French and British suffered heavy casualties and won nothing except a local gain in the St. Pierre Vaast wood. London admits the British were compelled to give back to the Germans ground won at the Butte de Warlencourt. In the St. Pierre Vaast wood, however, the French made a further advance in the northern part of the wood and captured additional prisoners—six hundred of whom were taken in the fighting of Sunday and Monday.

Rome reports that the Austrians are bringing up heavy reinforcements on the battle front north of Trieste. Here the Austrians apparently have taken the offensive, but have been unable to regain any of their lost positions, according to Rome.

Bombardments and small infantry attacks continue to feature the fighting in the Macedonian theater. London reports that a British submarine in the North sea off the Danish coast has scored a hit on a German battleship of the dreadnought class. The amount of damage done to the battleship is not known by the British admiralty.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT TO BANKING LAW TODAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 6.—The proposed amendment to the state banking law to be voted on Tuesday, provided that "no permit will be issued to more than one association (bank) having the same or a similar name or having the name of the location of the bank or any surname in the same relative position so as to make such name similar."

This change in the law is designed to correct what has been termed an abuse in organizing banks with names similar to those of well established institutions for the purpose, it is declared, of benefiting by the confusion that may result in the names.

The names of a great many banks are identical, except for the designation of the town in which they are located. As an instance of similarity that brought a protest are the First Trust and Savings Bank of Riverside near Chicago and the First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. When the former applied for a charter the Chicago bank protested, but the protest was of no avail, as the law and custom of the state banking department permitted the Riverside institution to incorporate under the name desired.

This is not a proposed amendment to the state constitution. Its passage requires a majority of all votes cast for or against the law. Any change in the state's banking law must be submitted to popular vote.

BEGIN HEARING ON COMPLAINT OF COAL MEN

Seek to Compel Roads to Return
Cars to Tracks of C. & E. I. and C. T. H. & S. Roads.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Judge Landis in the United States district court today began a hearing on complaint of twenty six coal companies of Illinois and Indiana against 146 railroads seeking to compel the roads to return coal cars to the tracks of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois and the Chicago, Terre Haute and Southern railroads.

It is charged that the coal companies are unable to obtain enough cars to ship their coal, a famine in which is threatened, and that curtailment of cars is due to use of coal cars for handling gravel, rails and other heavy freight in violation of the rules of the American railway association.

Counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul argued that this is not a proper time to begin suit as the interstate commerce commission recently began an inquiry into the entire subject.

OSBORNE TO TOUR U. S.

New York, Nov. 6.—Thomas Mott Osborne, former warden of Sing Sing Prison, will make a tour of the United States in a campaign "for prison reform and the furtherance of a self-government principle in prison management," it was announced today. ASK WILSON TO APPEAL FOR WAR SUFFERERS

Want Appeal Included in His Thanksgiving Proclamation

Paderewski and Committee Leaves Shadow Lawn Under Impression That Request Will Be Granted—Urges Wilson to Continue Efforts to Relieve Suffering in Poland.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 6.—President Wilson was asked today to include in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation an appeal to the people of the United States to give aid to European war sufferers. The request was made by Ignace Paderewski, the pianist, and a delegation representing organizations interested in relief work in Germany, Austria-Hungary, Poland, Russia, Armenia, Syria and other countries.

The committee left Shadow Lawn under the impression that their request would be granted and that the president already had something of the kind in mind.

Charles S. McFarland, general secretary of the federal council of Churches of Christ in America, and Mr. Paderewski also presented to Mr. Wilson a memorial urging the president to continue his efforts to relieve suffering in Poland. The memorial was signed by Cardinal Farley and Rabbi Joseph Silverman of New York and other men representing the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths.

Mention was made of failure of efforts of the president to bring about an agreement among European powers to get food into Poland.

Mr. Paderewski also suggested to the president that a day be set aside on which Americans may give money for Polish relief. One such day already has been designated.

Commenting on the action of the central powers in proclaiming a new and independent kingdom in Poland, Mr. Paderewski said:

"It will only add to the suffering of my people."

WILL SHIP SHELLED CORN IN COAL CARS

Vandalia Railroad to Use Unusual Method to Relieve the Shortage of Grain Cars.

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 6.—Unusual methods to relieve the shortage of grain cars are to be used by the Vandalia railroad, according to the statement of Manager Taber Hamilton today. A shipment of shelled corn in coal cars will be made Tuesday from elevators at Oakland and Benton, Ill., to Terre Haute, Ind.

Owners of the grain have agreed to take all risks and will cover the cars with canvas after the grain has been loaded. It is estimated that each car will hold from 1,000 to 1,400 bushels of corn. A special representative will accompany the train in order to see that the shipment is not tampered with.

In case the movement proves successful thousands of bushels of grain will probably be shipped from Illinois in coal cars as well as coal cars appear to be more plentiful in most places than the grain cars.

AWAITS PUNISHMENT FOR ESCAPE FROM CAMP

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Private Jacob L. Lewis, First Illinois Cavalry, today awaited camp at Fort Sheridan, where he is awaiting such punishment as may be meted out to him for a sensational escape from the camp a week ago to visit his dying mother at Peoria, Ill.

Whether the trooper is to be punished or not is said to be problematical, for he claims to have a telegram from Secretary of War Baker, a cousin, he says, of his father, commending his action in the circumstances.

After the funeral Lewis returned to camp. Colonel Foreman said that there had been so much illness recently among mothers since his troops were so close to their homes that he had grown cynical, and that Lewis' case would be handled without regard to his reported relationship to the secretary of war.

HOOT TAFT UNTIL HE ABANDONS SPEECH

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—When former President Taft attempted to make a political speech to a crowd of workmen at a local munitions factory today he was jeered and hooted to such an extent that he was obliged to abandon his speech, after talking a few minutes.

The proclamation took place in the presence of the administrator-general, the clergy of the diocese, deputies from all Polish associations, veterans of 1863 the vice-president of the Central Relief Commission and numerous officers. Accompanied by his associates the governor-general entered the room and read the proclamation. He concluded with a cheer for Poland in the Polish language and was applauded frantically. At the same time the Polish flag was hoisted and the Austro-Hungarian troops rendered honors to it while the band played the national anthem, amid the shouts of an immense crowd before the palace. REPORTS VILLA'S MAIN ARMY SOUTH OF PARRAL

Bandit Leader Marching Toward Mesa de Sandias

Has Large Quantity of Arms and Ammunition and Drove off Horses Hidden at Town—Spaniard Claims to Have Confirmation of Killing of Dr. Fisher.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 6.—Francisco Villa and his main command are marching toward Mesa de Sandias, 35 miles southwest of Parral, where a quantity of ammunition and arms and a large drove of horses are known to be hidden for the Villa forces, according to an American refugee from Chihuahua City. It was in the direction of Mesa de Sandias that Villa was going when he was being pursued by Major Tompkins and his command when Major Tompkins' command was attacked by a crowd of civilians in Parral.

A Spaniard, who arrived from Chihuahua City last night, brought a report that Americans in Parral had left there at the time of the Carranza evacuation and proceeded toward Sierra Mojada, about 135 miles northeast of Parral enroute to the Texas border. His information was given to a state department agent here to be forwarded to Washington.

The Spaniard claimed to have confirmation of the same source of the killing of Dr. C. H. Fisher, a well known and wealthy American physician at Santa Rosalia, who was reported to have been stabbed to death by Villa bandits when the captured town.

Estimates of Villa's military strength made by refugees from Chihuahua City vary. Seven thousand is considered by them to be a conservative estimate of the men Villa has.

Chihuahua soldiers, refugees say, are joining Villa daily.

MURDER CHARGES TO RESULT FROM FIGHTS

Prosecuting Attorney to File Charges Against Industrial Workers

PLACE BLAME ON I.W.W.

Coroner's Jury At Everett Returns Verdict Blaming Men On Steamer Verona

ARREST SIX AT SALT LAKE

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—Announcement was made today by prosecuting Attorney O. T. Webb of Snohomish county that charges of murder would be filed against all members of the Industrial Workers of the World who could be identified as actually having participated in the gun fight at Everett, Wash., yesterday in which seven were killed and fifty wounded.

Judge King Dykeman in the superior court here refused to release on writs of habeas corpus three women held in jail in connection with the riot. Local counsel for the industrial workers of the world applied to Judge Dykeman for release on a writ of habeas corpus of Mrs. Lorna Mahler, wife of Secretary Herbert Mahler, of the Industrial Workers of the World; Mrs. Edith Frenette and Mrs. Joyce Peters who were arrested here last night upon their return from Everett. The women were held in the city jail without formal charges. Judge Dykeman, however, ordered that the Seattle police produce them in court Wednesday morning and meanwhile see that they are not removed from Seattle. He said he thought it advisable to hold them in the interest of their own safety.

Release Guardsmen
Adjutant General Maurice Thompson of the Seattle headquarters of the Industrial Guard tonight released from duty 6,000 national guardsmen who had been held ready for emergencies at the armories in Seattle, Everett and Snohomish. General Thompson said the Everett authorities had full control of the situation there.

Several hundred dollars from various I. W. W. locals was received here today for the defense of the men under arrest. Arrangements are being made by the local Industrial Workers to conduct the funeral of the five members of the organization who were killed in the Everett battle whose bodies are held in the county morgue here.

Herbert Mahler, secretary treasurer of the Seattle headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World, today gave the following signed statement to The Associated Press concerning Sunday's riot at Everett. "We are going to charge everyone of the vigilance committee at Everett with murder and if possible bring a similar charge against every member of the Everett commercial club on the ground that they organized a band of manhunters and instructed them what to do. We have eye-witnesses of Sunday's clash from among the men on shore as well as those of the boat by whom we can prove that the first shot was fired by the vigilance committee. Besides endeavoring to get Frank P. Walsh, we will have other counsel. Fred H. Moore of Los Angeles already is on his way here. This fight really is a part of the open shop campaign waged by the manufacturers association all along the Pacific Coast."

(Signed) "Herbert L. Mahler."

Piece Blame on I. W. W.
Everett, Wash., Nov. 6.—Responsibility for the pitched battle between 250 members of the Industrial Workers of the World and a posse of 150 Everett citizens at the city dock yesterday in which seven men lost their lives and fifty were wounded, was placed upon men on the boat the coroner's jury which investigated the death of the two Everett men killed in the riot.

The jury returned a verdict that Charles O. Curtiss, a posseman, who was instantly killed and Deputy Sheriff Jefferson Beard, who died of his wounds, early today, met death from "gunshot wounds inflicted by a riotous mob on the Steamer Verona at the city dock."

A still larger majority at the polls today should be rolled up for Andrew Russel, Republican candidate for state auditor, as the result of the action of the Tribune, the Daily News and the other big papers in Chicago. These papers have united in their endorsement of the Jacksonville man for the auditorship. This action is based upon his record in the state treasurer's office and upon his statement of the policies he will pursue in reorganizing certain departments of the business of the state thru the auditor's office if he is elected. It has all along been recognized that Mr. Russel's name adds materially to the strength of the ticket and his popularity will be further evidenced when the votes are counted today.

"Father" to Come Into His Own.
Father, whom the poets have overlooked and whom writers of popular ballads have neglected, is at last coming into his own.

And son is responsible for it. For he it is known that tomorrow is to be observed in many cities throughout the land as "Father and Son" day, recognized as such by the less authorities than the mayors of the several cities, who have issued proclamations to that effect. Son is going to give father a banquet, which will be a sort of get together affair. At each of these banquets there are to be prominent speakers, who will express a few chosen remarks in behalf of dear old dad. Father is going to find out, perhaps for the first time in his life, just where he stands, for all of the speakers are expected to say nice things about him. He is going to be dined and praised in princely fashion and his true worth in the scheme of affairs is at last to be made the subject of general discussion. The banquets will mark the close of the "Father and Son" day celebrations, the promoters of which include the Y. M. C. A., the Boy Scouts and various other social organizations of national scope.

When Election's Over.

We're going today to cast our vote. So, I ask you kindly, will you take note. Although we differed in our views, One for Wilson, and the other for Hughes, And in the past we argued long, Yet couldn't agree in our campaign song; Each trying the other to convince And saying things that make one wince. Talking fast as ever we could, Gliding at last to the good. That no matter how the battle ends, We still are neighbors and must be friends; Forget tomorrow we differed today And accept with grace who wins the play. Yes, just submit without a fuss And be loyal to him if he's loyal to us. And know whatever betide or fall, The good of one is the good of all. —S. Adrian Hughes.

LAST INVESTMENT.
Before I buy my gasoline, I pay the grocer for his prunes, the druggist for his Paris green, the clothier for his pantaloons, I wouldn't much enjoy my car, if merchants watched it, as it goes, remarking, "Twould be better far, if he would pay us what he owes." While scorching up the village street, behind the walnut steering wheel, I'd hate it much if I should meet a man I owe for buckwheat meal, I'd hate to drive, in pomp and state, across the market's paving stones, and run across some needy skate to whom I owe eleven bones. My car may rust in yonder shed before I'll send it on its way to meet the chap who sold me bread and had so whistle for his pay. I pay the barber for his shave, the newsman for his magazine, the sexton for his hand made grave, before I buy my gasoline. I pay the butcher for his veal, the tinner for his soup tureen, the learned attorney for his spell, before I buy my gasoline. I pay for soda, salts and soap, for my supply of nicotine, for the surgeon's saws and druggists' dope, before I buy my gasoline.

THIS DATE IN ILLINOIS HISTORY
November 7, 1748—The governor of Louisiana strongly advised the French ministry not to carry out its plan of placing Illinois under the jurisdiction of Canada instead of that of Louisiana. He argued that Louisiana would suffer for lack of a source of food supplies, and that Canada could not properly protect a post so far distant.

Andrew Russel Gives Pointed Answer to Governor Dunne

In a statement issued yesterday, State Treasurer Andrew Russel said in reply to Governor Dunne:

"In my statement showing that Governor Dunne and State Auditor Brady, in anticipation of its political effect in this campaign, fixed the state tax rate at too low a figure to meet the enormous expenditures of the present Democratic administration, I based my assertions upon the records in the auditor's office. In his reply, Governor Dunne merely denies that what I said was true, and offers nothing in substantiation of his denial.

"Evidently he is relying upon the same sort of evidence he had regarding the cost of the Republican special train. It will be remembered that he called this train 'a million dollar special,' but later he hired the very same train for his partial tour of the state, and he doesn't pretend to be worth a million dollars or to be spending much on his campaign.

"I should not answer him at all were it not for the fact that he accused me of a betrayal of public trust. He said: 'If Mr. Russel tells the truth at this late hour, he has betrayed the people by keeping silent so long.'

"Governor Dunne surely has not forgotten that at the time the rate was fixed on December 3, 1915, I protested that it was too low, not only to him and to Mr. Brady, when, as a member of the tax board, I refused to attach my signature to it, but also in a public statement. On frequent occasions since then I have alluded to it.

"Newspapers of the state on December 4, 1915, published this news item: 'Will the state be broke before the end of next year, or will it have plenty of money in the treasury to meet all of its obligations?'

"State Treasurer Andrew Russel fears it will be broke. State Auditor Brady and Governor Dunne believe it will have plenty.

"It developed after the fixing of the rate for the year at 55 cents by the state tax board, composed of the auditor, treasurer and governor, that these opposing views had been

My Mother—God Bless Her!
The heart of her—that beat against my own.

The love of her—the tenderest I have known;

The eyes of her—that saw my slightest grief,

The feet of her—that flew to my relief,

The ears of her—that heard my faintest plea,

The hands of her—that toiled for love of me;

The mind of her—my own that understood,

The words of her—that counseled and advised,

The touch of her—that soothed and sympathized,

The form of her—with all its comely grace,

The smile of her—that glorified her face;

The voice of her—no other voice so sweet,

The prayers of her—at Heaven's mercy-seat,

The life of her—O, I would worthy be Of all my Mother was, and is to me!

Vote of Soldiers on Border Will Be Factor Today.

The thousands of National Guardsmen encamped along the Mexican border are to exercise their rights of franchise today, notwithstanding the fact that in most instances they are hundreds of miles away from their legal voting residence. The most of them have been enabled to exercise their right to vote by special act of the legislature of their respective states. When it became evident that a large part of the troops would not be able to return home before election day, the legislatures in many of the states were hurriedly summoned in special session to enact such laws as would permit of the "absent voting." In most cases commissioners have been assigned to the various commands in the field, whose duty it will be to see that the qualified voters among the troops are supplied with regular ballots of their respective states and districts, and to superintend the casting of the ballots and their return to the proper officials.

The states have made no provision for wiring the returns from the border and in most cases the official results will not be known until the returns are received by mail or brought home by the special commissioners. Contests in some of the states and in many of the congressional districts are expected to be close and the exact standing of some of the candidates may not be definitely known until after the soldier vote is counted.

It is estimated that there are between 50,000 and 100,000 qualified voters among the troops stationed along the Mexican border and in the various camps. A hundred thousand votes more or less has made little difference in recent national elections. Nevertheless, it is easily conceivable that the soldier vote might have a decisive bearing on the fate of more than one candidate in states and districts where the results are exceedingly close.

This is the first time since the civil war that soldiers have voted in the field. General U. S. Grant played a prominent part in winning the vote for the National Guardsmen doing service in the field at that time, and it was upon his suggestion that many of the checks and restraints under which the Guardsmen vote today were made.

aired to considerable extent at the meeting of the board yesterday afternoon, and that Treasurer Russel disagreed with the governor and auditor and refused to attach his signature to the rate fixed by these two. He declared that under the law the rate should be 65 cents, and that when the needs of the state were taken into consideration it should be at least 60. He refused to sign an order for any rate below 60 cents.

"I am convinced that the rate should at least be that high," Treasurer Russel said. "The money will be needed for state purposes and it should be provided."

"The treasurer is said to have told the governor and auditor that he was against keeping down the tax rate for political purposes."

"I have protested against this rate from the first, and Governor Dunne's effort to make it appear that this is merely as campaign charge is an evasion of the question and it convicts him in the eyes of every thinking man.

"In my statement I said that because the rate was fixed too low to meet the enormous appropriations, the deficit will be $2,853,532 on April 10 next and any one familiar with state finances can convince himself that this is true. On October 1, 1914, with a 70 cent rate, there was a balance of $8,187,998.96 in the treasury. This year on October 1, with a 55 cent rate, the balance was only $2,806,637.19, and on November 1 this balance had dwindled to $1,558,769.07. The auditor's books on October 1 showed that the receipts for the biennium were $24,465,870.49, while the disbursements for the same period were $29,849,232.17, or $5,381,361.77 more than the receipts. On the expectation of receipts and the necessary disbursements, which may be figured accurately, any one can prove to a certainty that the dwindling balance will disappear and a deficit at least as large as I stated will appear in its place.

"The state will be bankrupt simply because the present governor and auditor played politics with the tax rate."

PROTECTION AFTER THE WAR DEMANDED

Citizens Have Awakened to This as One of the Most Important Issues of the Campaign.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—In the closing hours of the campaign it is apparent from reports that are coming into the National Headquarters at Chicago, that the great absorbing issue before the people is protection for American industry for the period that will come after the close of the European war.

The voters are not unmindful of the spiritual and political issues involved. They are anxious to bring about a government in the United States that will enable them to keep their souls on straight, but they are not unmindful of their material interests. The issue is clearly defined between the two parties. Mr. Wilson and his party are standing by the Underwood Tariff Law which offers no protection, which does not raise sufficient revenue to run the government and under which the already high cost of living is advanced more than 50 per cent. Mr. Hughes and his party are standing for the protection of American labor and American products.

As the day of the election approaches it is apparent that the voters have sensed this important issue and have realized its importance. Their recollection of the disastrous period when the Underwood Tariff Law went into effect and before the European war had intervened to save the country from the mal-practice of legislation, is fresh in their minds.

A Case in Point.
What will happen after the war has been made more clear and most distinct within the last few days by the fact that 1,000,000 bushels of Argentine corn have been shipped into Peoria. This in the face of the fact that ocean freight rates are almost prohibitive. It has also been accentuated by newspaper items to the effect that Australian wheat is being landed at San Francisco at prices cheaper than the American product.

American labor is especially awake to the danger that confronts it under the underwood law. Both business and labor realize that Europe and Japan are planning to invade this country with their cheap products as soon as the war closes. These products will be produced under conditions with which American labor cannot compete. Japan, for example, is entering on a large scale into the manufacture of cotton fabrics. The maximum for skilled labor in Japan is forty cents a day, and there are no laws restricting the hours of labor or the employment of women and children. Under these conditions, Japan can ship cotton from this country and the product back into this country more cheaply than it can be manufactured here under American working conditions.

Reports brought back to Headquarters by speakers are uniform. The voters are awake to the fact that the most vital need of the country is a protective tariff law to protect it against the disaster that threatens after the war, and it is clearly realized that only under Charles Evans Hughes can such protection be obtained.

W. E. HULL POINTS TO AFTER WAR DANGERS

Protection for American Workman the Greatest Consideration—The Danger from Japan.

In Chicago recently W. E. Hull of Peoria, well known to a great many Jacksonville citizens, made an address directed especially to laboring men. The speaker pointed out in especially strong way what cheap Japanese labor may eventually do to the American laboring men if Wilson and a Democratic congress are elected today. Some paragraphs from Mr. Hull's address are as follows:

"Unless we have a protective tariff to safeguard our industries against the production of cheap Japanese labor it will only be a matter of time until many of our American industries will find it impossible to compete with Japanese importations, and that the effort to resist it will result in legislation so offensive to Japan as to eventually lead to armed conflict."

"This peril is not a possibility, but an absolute living present condition, and should be laid in plain language and figures before the laboring men of this country, so that they be put on notice and given an opportunity to intelligently do their part in preventing this commercial and in my judgment, eventually armed conflict."

"In making a tabulation of the average daily wage of other skilled labor, I am wondering how the American artisan would like to compete with labor commanding these wages, in Japan, namely:

Per Day Cents.
Cabinetmakers 41
Coopers 35
Harnessmakers 37
Jewelers 33
Foundrymen 37
Blacksmiths 37
Potters 34
Papermakers 24
Printers 26
Confectioners 22
Bakers 22
And so on down the line.

"The best evidence that Japan is actually invading our American markets is that she sent her representatives over here and got the so-called sizes and shapes of knit goods. These Japanese garments cannot be distinguished from the American product from which they are copied. An operator in a knitting mill in Wisconsin recently lost a customer in New York for the reason that he was able to get his requirements from Japan at prices which enabled him to undersell his American competitors and still make a larger profit than he could on goods manufactured in America. Indeed, when these goods arrived in San Francisco the valuation on them was so little that the customs officers detained them, but proof was quickly forthcoming that the valuation was in fact no greater than that declared, and of course they were passed."

Under reliable information, before the war broke out Woolworth & Co., a store one of which is located in the city of Peoria, were buying many articles from Austria. Since the war Japan has succeeded in exactly reproducing the Austrian product, and the Woolworth company are now in fact buying them in Japan at a much less cost."

LIGHTER COAL LOADS IS COUNCIL'S WISH

Meeting of Team Owners To Be Held—No Special Work on Pavements Until Supreme Court Acts or Rate Case is Settled.

The city council session Monday was not very lengthy or exciting. Early in the session Mayor Rodgers referred to the effort being made to have coal wagons carry smaller loads as there is frequent complaint that horses are abused. He said further that aside from the cruelty to animals that the overloaded wagons mean loss to persons who have purchased coal as when it is heaped up the coal falls off and is ground beneath the wheels. With hard coal this is bad for the pavements and both kinds of broken coal are bad for automobile tires. The mayor thought that about the best way of getting at the matter was to have a meeting of coal dealers and team owners at some early date. He had found from conversation with various team owners that they are all in favor of any plan which will result in better treatment for the horses and which will also protect the interest of consumers.

Pavements Discussed
Mayor Rodgers said further that the rate question is still unsettled as the auditor who has been checking over the books of the Jacksonville Railway & Light company for the utility commission has a report which varies somewhat from the report previously made by the company. Mr. Vasconcellos was of the opinion that it would be wise to let property owners of South Main street and possibly East State street make water and sewer connections without cost in order to have this done before the pavements are put down.

It was then that the mayor made reference to the rate case and said while it was still quite probable that an agreement would be reached, that until such an agreement was made the paving cases would be in

To my friends:
I wish to say, that Hon. P. J. Lucey, the present Attorney General of Illinois is one of the most able and efficient lawyers who has occupied that position for years, and as such has received the endorsement of the leading lawyers of this state both in and out of his party.

He is opposed by one of Chicago's leading politicians whose nomination over Senator Barr was procured by doubtful methods in Cook county at the late primary election. The Republican candidate knows no one outside of Cook county, and will not probably in his appointments in fact he won't have enough appointments to satisfy his henchmen in Cook county, while General Lucey does give his appointments largely to the down state people. A rebuke is due to Cook county politicians for the kind of politics played on down state candidates, and its up to the down state voters to show their disapproval. It can be only done at the ballot box, and now is a good time in this very case to register that disapproval.

I ask of my friends, both Democrats and Republicans and other good citizens at the polls today that they register their approval of the honest, efficient administration of Attorney General Lucey and a rebuke to Cook county political methods.

Note for P. J. Lucey on the Democratic ticket, the last state office on the ticket.

Respectfully yours,
Wm. N. Hairgrove.

court and it would not be wise to take any steps about the water or sewer pipes and thus get the present pavements into worse condition before it was definitely known what the results of the paving projects would be. He thought too, that it would be a precedent which would cause some trouble. Mr. Vasconcellos did not think that the pavements could be much worse than they are now but agreed with the idea that it might be well to await the result in the rate case.

Disagree Over Flushing Bill
Mr. Cox reported grading work being done on paved streets and patching on paved streets where there are holes which can be remedied temporarily. Mr. Vasconcellos reported some repair work in progress at the north side pumping station and mentioned the necessary work near Superior avenue where the surface of the ground has been so changed that at one place the water main is exposed. Mr. Vasconcellos also reported some differences with Supt. Montgomery of the State School for the Blind. Supt. Montgomery objected to the payment of $5 fee for flushing the sewer whereas the city maintains that the School for the Blind has the use of hydrants only in case of fire and that in all other ways the hydrants on the School for the Blind property are to be subject to city rules and regulations.

Someone asked about further paving ordinances and the city engineer stated that the data was ready for the city attorney to prepare the ordinances for the paving of Mound avenue and for that on Sandy, Court and West streets.

Officers' Reports
Officers' reports were then received. R. L. Pyatt, city clerk, reported collections thru his office of $283; Jacksonville cemetery $26.50; Diamond Grove $384.50. The report of Charles B. Graft, treasurer, showed balance in the general fund Nov. 1 of $5,642.65. The report of Dr. A. M. King, health warden, showed the total number of deaths in October 34, of which 12 were at Jacksonville State hospital. SCHOOL BUILDING CHANGES MUST COME

CONDITIONS IN SOME INSTANCES
DO NOT COMPLY WITH LAW.

Resignations Received From Two Teachers—Usual Thanksgiving Vacation Fixed—Board Will Not Permit Dancing at High School Building.

The board of education held a long session last evening. The matter of complying with the law regarding conditions of buildings was discussed and will have due attention. The board and Anti-Tuberculosis League have agreed regarding the maintenance of the open air school. High school pupils from a distance must pay $30 each by December 1 and the same by January 15 or leave school. High school literary meetings must be held in the daytime. The board went on record against dancing by the pupils in the buildings or at any recognized high school gathering chaperoned by teachers. High school teachers were asked to attend the annual teachers' conference at Champaign November 23-25, the school to be dismissed. Resignations of Misses Florence Spink and Evelyn Uzzell, teachers, were accepted. The action of the committee granting insurance business only to regular agencies was approved. The Thanksgiving vacation will include Thursday and Friday, November 30 and December 1.

The board met in regular session with all present except Members Black, Duncan and Rogerson. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved. The committee on buildings and supplies reported the cost of flooring the kindergarten room as $30. A request for two benches for the manual training department at a cost of $43.50 was granted.

Building Conditions. Superintendent Perrin presented a somewhat lengthy communication regarding the condition of some of the buildings with regard to sanitation, light, capacity, etc., and suggested wherein changes would have to be made by next March to comply with the law. The state inspector has been here and looked over the buildings and had made various suggestions. The high school building presented some very difficult problems, as it was hard to accommodate 450 pupils in a building erected for 300. Some difficult problems also in the David Prince building were suggested. There were no lights in the Morton school building which caused inconvenience at times.

The whole matter was referred to the committee on buildings and supplies and the superintendent was granted the power to act regarding seating, sanitation and lighting matters.

Superintendent Perrin reported the result of a conference with the Anti-Tuberculosis League regarding the open air school and said the agreement had been made whereby the board would take care of the furniture and supplies of the school and the league would see to the food for the children. The stove and some matters need immediate attention.

High School Tuition. The question of tuition of high school pupils was brought up and Superintendent Perrin stated that the law under which they had been working had been declared unconstitutional and they would now have to fall back on the old law, which provided that districts or parents might pay the tuition of outside pupils. The cost of each high school pupil was $50 a year and it was finally decided that either from district or parents must come the tuition of the seventy outside pupils of the high school, $20 each by December 1 and $30 each by January 15, and those not paying would have to leave the school. The superintendent and president were required to attend to the collecting.

Superintendent Perrin said Principal Callahan had reported a difficulty arising from the time of the meeting of the boys' literary society of the high school. It was now in the afternoon and it conflicted with athletic practice and the question was, could some arrangement be made whereby the meetings could be held in the evening? The matter was discussed at some length and it was suggested that if the boys have the privilege of evening meetings then other similar requests would come in and it would be impracticable to grant them, and inasmuch as but few boys were affected it was decided that the literary society should meet in the afternoon.

No Dancing at High School. Quite a lengthy discussion was caused over the question of dancing. Should pupils be permitted to dance in the building during the noon hour, and should dancing be permitted at high school functions? After much argument and discussion pro and con, it was decided that it was the sense of the board that there be no dancing at any formally recognized high school function and chapter; that is, any gathering either in school building or in private home where it was announced as a recognized high school function and chaperoned by teachers. Of course, where any family gives a party for high school pupils or others on their own account and the function is not announced as a high school affair and special invitations are issued without the chaperoning of teachers, that is not the business of the board in any way.

Superintendent Perrin asked for instructions regarding the pay for janitors for extra evening gatherings at school buildings. He said he wanted it distinctly understood that only janitors and coach had keys and no pupils were permitted in the gym or elsewhere in the school buildings unattended by either coach or teachers. It was finally decided that for ordinary gatherings in the evening a janitor should be allowed $1 and $2 if he had an extra amount of cleaning up to do, as would be the case if refreshments were served, the organizations having said meetings to pay the bill. Meetings ordered by the board were not included in the foregoing.

A communication was read from Norman Kuykendall, who stated that he had credits for certain studies elsewhere and he wished to study and take examinations so as to get sufficient credits to take the state bar examination and wished to have his credits gained elsewhere credited here and all put together with what he would gain by study and examinations. With complimentary remarks concerning the young man the request was granted.

The Teachers' Conference. Superintendent Perrin reported that the annual state teachers' conference would be held at Champaign November 23-25, and said it was a meeting of greatest importance to high school teachers who should by all means attend. It would cost about $10 each and as some of the teachers had already been at expense for summer work and had suffered a reduction in salary they felt it would be a hardship to attend at their own expense, but on the other hand he thought it extremely important for them to do so. It had not been inserted in their contracts, though that was the case with some cities. It was finally decided to dismiss the high school for November 23 and 24 and grant full pay to all teachers attending but not to pay their expenses and to request all high school teachers to attend. The board granted Andrew Larson permission to take special manual training work, he paying for same.

The resignations of Miss Flora M. Spink, teacher in the high school, Miss Eva G. Uzzell, teacher in the second grade, Franklin school, were read and accepted and the matter of successors was referred to the superintendent and committee on teachers and courses of study with power to act. Superintendent Perrin said it was rather hard on the board when a teacher had made a contract for nine months to throw it up at will. Unless she had been doing poor work she would very quickly refer the board to the contract if they would ask her to resign. Applications for positions from Misses Nellie P. Self and Norma Dawson, the latter now teaching in Roodhouse, were read and referred as above stated.

Bills amounting to $464.30 from J. F. Brennan were read. They were approved by all of the former board last September and placed in bank as collateral in March, but the present board had no knowledge of their existence. No warrants had been drawn for the bill and it was stated the interest could not legally be allowed. Referred to the finance committee with power to act.

Report on Contagious Diseases. Superintendent Perrin stated that the board had taken the utmost precautions regarding contagious diseases; had employed an additional trained nurse to examine carefully the pupils and had fumigated all rooms in which suspects had attended and isolated all cases as far as possible. Scarlet fever was of a very mild type this year and no danger was anticipated. Sanitation, cleanliness all had had attention.

The superintendent presented the results of bales week and they were very creditable, 14,000 bales in all. In the seventh grade they had been divided into sections and the following were the totals: (10) 867 lbs., (9) 760, (8) 931, (7) 1,611, (6) 1,574, (5) 1,383, (4) 1,474, (3) 1,089, (2) 1,300, (1) 2,352. He wasn't sure of the financial result, but hoped for $50 to $75 to be used for equipment.

It was decided to allow two holidays, Thursday and Friday at Thanksgiving.

Insurance Changes. The committee on building supplies reported that in allotting the insurance they had eliminated some policies and admitted others asked the endorsement of the board. They said they felt it proper to grant business only to regular agents maintaining insurance offices or insurance and real estate offices and those only. Persons receiving regular salaries, farmers and those engaged in regular occupations and doing a little fire insurance as a side line they didn't think were entitled to the business. They had left out such and had granted business to some regular agents who had none. After considerable discussion the action was approved. It was suggested that in case of a loss the inexperienced agents would have a hard time adjusting matters.

The superintendent's report showed the following:

SETTLEMENT MADE IN THE DAVIES ESTATE

PAYMENT MADE TO ENGLISH
HEIRS FOR THEIR PORTION

Lands All Transferred to the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company As Trustees—Will Be Sold Within Sixty Days and Proceeds Divided.

A deed of trust placed on record at the court house yesterday provides for the final settlement of the estate of the late Llewellyn Davies, concerning which there has been so much litigation. By the terms of this deed all the properties are transferred to the Farmers State Bank and Trust company as trustees. The bank will proceed with the sale of the lands belonging to the estate and will then make division among the heirs in accordance with the agreement. By the terms of the agreement the bank has paid to the English heirs the sum of $22,000 and for court costs and the fees of the American heirs $19,000.

History of Case.
Mr. Davies died several years ago leaving three sons, one daughter and four children of a prior deceased daughter as his American heirs at law. Within a short time after his death, it developed that he had been married in England before he came to America and that he left surviving a son and two daughters of a prior deceased daughter residing in England.

The English heirs by Messrs. Gordley and Nizer, of Virginia, their attorneys, entered suit for their portion of the estate. In the litigation which has taken much time in both the circuit and probate courts the American heirs were represented by Messrs. Kirby, Wilson and Brockhouse; Bellatti, Bellatti and Moriarty, and J. P. Lippincott. On the 29th of last August an agreement was entered into between the contending claimants wherein it was provided that the American heirs should pay the English heirs an agreed sum and take over all of the estate of Mr. Davies in America, and that all litigation be dropped.

Value of Estate.
At the time of his death Mr. Davies owned something over five hundred acres of farm lands in this county valued at about $75,000 consisting of a farm near Pisgah church, occupied by his son, Samuel E. Davies; the farm on the State road east of this city formerly owned by W. T. Boyce and occupied by his son, E. M. Davies, and the farm also on the State road east of Jacksonville formerly owned by W. C. Ledford and occupied by his son, J. W. Davies. In addition to these farm lands Mr. Davies possessed some personal property.

Yesterday there was placed on record a deed conveying from the English heirs to the American heirs all of the interest of the English heirs in the estate in America.

By the deed of trust also recorded yesterday the American heirs convey to The Farmers State Bank and Trust company, in trust, all of their right title and interest in the estate.

In accordance with the terms of this trust deed, The Farmers State Bank and Trust company, yesterday paid the English heirs $22,000.00 the amount due them in accordance with the agreement of August 29th and also paid $19,000.00 to the attorneys for the American heirs which includes the court costs.

Lands Will Be Sold.
As trustees The Farmers State Bank and Trust company will sell the lands belonging to the decedent, collect all personal property now due the estate and after refunding to itself the amounts paid the English heirs and the attorneys for the American heirs and paying all costs and charges in connection with the trust will distribute the proceeds of the estate to the American heirs.

Under the terms of the trust deed the farm lands may be sold within thirty days at private sale upon written request of all of the American heirs but if not disposed of in that manner and time, The Farmers State Bank and Trust company, as trustees, is to sell the lands at public sale within sixty days from Monday, November 6.

ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT ON LIGHT CO. BOOKS

Coal Cost Figures Vary Somewhat From Statement Previously Made—Indications are that Readjustment Will Be Made.

The accountant for the state utility commission recently sent to examine the books of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co. has made his report. This states that the company's figures as to increased coal costs were greater than that found by the accountant. The company in a preliminary estimate stated that the increased cost of fuel by comparing the year with previous years was 44c per ton. The accountant's account figures the increased cost at $2.23 per ton. The difference in figures does not mean that an agreement cannot be reached and the matter will probably be settled in a satisfactory way by the petitioners and the light company. The communication made by the commission's accounting department, a copy of which was received by Dr. Bowe and Dr. Baker, the petitioners in the case, was as follows:

Mr. M. J. Murphy, Chief Accountant and Statistician, State Public Utilities Commission, Springfield, Ill.
Dear Sir:

In compliance with your directions I have made an examination of certain records of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., Jacksonville, Ill., relating to the comparative cost of steam coal for the 5 years ending December 31, 1915, and for the 9 months ending September 30, 1916.

Several errors were discovered, reducing the increase in cost of coal for the 9 months period over the 5 year period to $2.53 per ton. Applying this figure to the operating accounts will produce an increase in expenses of $4,851.57 instead of $6,641.11 as shown by the company.

However, the company is asking for an increase in electric revenue of but $6,104.91 in excess of the Fischer schedule, which is only $1,253.34 in excess of the increased operating expenses.

Yours very truly,
P. G. Ward,
Accountant in charge of examination

COLORED VOTERS HELD ROUSING MEETING

Final Gathering of Campaign at the Court House Monday Night—Enthusiasm for All Ticket Prevails.

The colored men and women of the city held an enthusiastic meeting in the circuit court room Monday evening. There was a large number present and the speakers all advocated the support of the entire Republican ticket. A large number of women were present and that they were interested was shown by the close attention they gave the various speakers.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. M. L. Mackey and Rev. Raphael Hancock acted as secretary. Carl E. Robinson, Republican candidate for state's attorney and Charles A. Rose, candidate for coroner, were present and made brief addresses.

The chairman then introduced the Rev. J. E. Carter, who made a stirring address. Rev. Carter reviewed the history of the Republican and Democratic parties and pointed out that the Republican party had always given the negro the greatest opportunities.

Mrs. Laura Lafayette was introduced by the chairman as one of the leaders among the women. Mrs. Lafayette spoke of the great privilege that had come to the women to be able to vote for president. She said that the colored women of the city had been the last to organize but "that they would be first at the polls on election day."

George H. Huntton, president of the Lowden-Russell club was called upon and responded briefly. He expressed his pleasure at being allowed to speak and complimented the colored citizens on the apparent interest they were showing in the present campaign.

Rev. H. H. DeWitt told of the treatment accorded the colored employees in Washington by the Wilson administration. He also reviewed the high cost of living and expressed the belief that the only relief was the election of the Republican candidates.

The last speaker was Dr. E. L. Scruggs. He spoke briefly, confining most of his time to an explanation of the method of voting the straight Republican ticket.

In closing Dr. Scruggs spoke a word in behalf of the county ticket. He said that the ticket was a splendid one in every particular and he hoped the colored voters would vote for every man on it. He called especial attention to Carl E. Robinson, candidate for state attorney and the mention of Mr. Robinson's name brought forth great applause from the audience.

Vote the straight Republican ticket today, in nation, state and district and especially remember these county candidates:

NASH BRINGS OUT NEW JEFFERY SEDAN.

The decided tendency of the motor car buying public toward enclosed cars is further emphasized by the announcement of two new Jeffery Sedans by The Nash Motors Company of Kenosha, Wisconsin. Simplicity, comfort and stylish elegance are combined in the new models—four and six-cylinder types—and the tops are removable for summer touring. Both models have ample accommodations for seven passengers.

The lines of this new Jeffery top are in strict accordance with latest mandates of motor car fashion. One of the most noticeable features is the extra-large size of the French plate windows. These drop five inches to give circulation in warm weather, providing a good circulation of air without permitting a draft on the heads of the passengers. The rear window measures 31x19 inches.

Divided front seats eliminate the necessity of fore doors and thus do away with the need for a panel between the front window and the rear door. Accessibility between the front and rear compartments is also provided in this phase of the car's design. Incidentally, the interior is unusually roomy for a car of this type.

Gray whipcord upholstery, roll curtains on the windows and numerous other details of finish lend distinction and tone to the car's appointments. It was the aim of the Nash engineers to make the new Jeffery Sedan contain all the comforts of a regular high-priced limousine, and to give credit where it is due, they have succeeded. Tasting tests have proved the top to be wind, rain, snow and sleet tight.

Still another essentially pleasant touch is the large dome light in the center of the top. When lit this radiates a cheerful glow over those within, and the passengers unconsciously acquire a sense of added comfort and warmth because of it. Let us show you one at the Jeffery Motor Sales Co. Show Room, 312 E. State street.

MAYOR THOMPSON IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

National Committeeman Believes Republican Party Will Prevail in State and Nation.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—I confidently believe that the twenty-nine electoral votes of Illinois will be given to Hughes and Fairbanks by a large plurality, and that our entire state ticket will be triumphantly elected. This means, of course, that we shall increase the number of Republican representatives from Illinois in the lower house of congress, and control, with largely increased majorities, in both branches of the legislature at Springfield. I also firmly believe that the whole Cook county Republican ticket will win a decisive victory.

The foregoing statement is based on reports which I have received from officials of the party in every county of Illinois. Without a single exception they report that the sober second thought of the voters is at work, and that the drift to the Republican party is unmistakable and noticeable everywhere.

The two things with which our Democratic friends had hoped to fool the people, "peace and prosperity," have become their heaviest liabilities. With a record of more Americans murdered in Mexico, under this administration than lost their lives in the war with Spain, no sensible American believes that we are not really at war with that country. On the other hand, every well informed American knows that our present prosperity began with the war in Europe, depends on the war in Europe, and will end when the war in Europe does.

Disgust with the manner in which our state affairs are being administered, is another potent factor in the uprising against the Democratic party in Illinois. When the present incumbent of the office of governor was a candidate in 1912, he promised the people an economical administration. Our tax receipts, however, show that he has been the most extravagant governor Illinois has ever had.

Wm. Hale Thompson,
National Committeeman.

OBITUARY.

Jeannette Wagner, daughter of Harry and Mary Wagner, was born at Bluffs Springs, Cass county, Illinois, January 28, 1882, and passed from this life in Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 4, 1916, aged 24 years, 9 months and 7 days. She was the oldest of five children, who made up her parents' family, namely, Mrs. Milton E. Stout, Jacksonville; William, Ethel and Mabel who reside with the parents in Streator, Ill. Early in her life the family moved to Virginia, Ill., where the deceased grew to womanhood, attending the public schools and the high school. The family later moved to this city and she attended the high school here. She attended Centenary church while in this city, but her membership was in the Presbyterian church at Virginia, Ill. June 2, 1914, the deceased was married to Wm. T. Thompson, Jr., and they made their home in Jacksonville. The young people started out in life with bright hopes for the future and pictured the many happy days they were to spend together and the joys of the home life which was to be theirs. Mrs. Thompson had never been very strong and was suddenly taken sick October 25 and rapidly grew worse until the end came Saturday afternoon. It is indeed sad to see this new home thus early broken, but we have the hope of her Christian faith and the memory of her short but beautiful life. She leaves her husband, her parents and brother and sisters, besides a number of other relatives.

MOTHER LOVE AIDS SON IN TRENCHES

It Brings Relief To Boy Standing His Watch Deep In Mud.

Once upon a time, only a few months after this terrible world war had begun, Private Bailey, a soldier in the ranks had stood for days in the trenches "somewhere in France." The cold rains soaked him to the skin; the mud was deep. He had had no rest. Weary and aching with rheumatic pains, he recalled the faith his mother had in Sloan's Liniment. He asked for it in his next letter home. A large bottle was immediately sent him and a few applications killed the pain, once more he was able to stand the severe exposure. He shared this wonderful muscle-soother with his comrades, and they all agreed it was the greatest "reinforcement" that had ever come to their rescue. At your druggist, 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

VOTES OF WOMEN

Do women realize that they already vote in the most effective way on important questions?

Every time a woman buys an article it is a vote, backed by money, for that article, a sincere approval of its merits.

So women have been voting on the question of health. When they have suffered from woman's ailments their vote has been overwhelming for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which they have bought and used with satisfaction.—Adv.

LAY DOWNFALL TO LACK OF TRAINING

Physician to Chicago Morals Court Urges That Girls in Public Schools Be Taught Some Useful Work—Other Illinois News Items.

Chicago, Ill.—Lack of training in self-supporting trades is the cause of the misfortune of most women who find themselves in the Morals court of Chicago.

This is the conclusion of Dr. Anna Dwyer, physician to the Morals court after a year's study of the problems presented by this tribunal. Her conclusions are found in a report made to the State Board of Charities.

The Morals court deals primarily with statutory offense against society. Since its establishment it has heard thousands of cases against women offenders.

"The root of the problem," said Dr. Dwyer, "is to be found below the surface condition of the court. So noticeable is the fact that practically none of the women who are brought into the Morals court have had any training in self-supporting trades, that the lack appears to be closely associated with the problem of morality. It would therefore seem advisable that every girl in the public school should be taught some useful work. Books are not the only intellectual force in mind training. Tools are quite effective and in many cases children who seem unable to grasp book knowledge become not only manual but mentally efficient through the use of these tools."

Springfield, Ill.—As the result of the strict administration of the new Illinois law compelling registration of births and recording of deaths within a prescribed period, the United States government will probably expend $30,000 in this state in the collection of birth and death statistics.

A representative of the United States Public Health Service, who recently came here to investigate the collection of these data, said the great improvement shown in the percentage of births and deaths recorded will put Illinois in the United States statistical area. The federal health service requires that a state shall be able to record 90 per cent of its births and deaths before it can be numbered among the states in which the United States is collecting these statistics. This representative said he would return to Illinois in January for a further investigation.

Springfield, Ill.—A unique plan in traveling libraries in Union county is being proposed by the State Traveling Library Commission for other counties. The library at the county seat of Union county has established certain routes throughout the county and supplies the rural schools along the routes with books that may be kept for two weeks or a month. After one month of trial the library reports that twelve schools and 323 readers have been served with 529 books.

A trip is made over each route every two weeks. It is said this close range service has a distinct advantage. The person in charge of the local library may become familiar with the actual needs of the schools and may recommend just the line of reading which is most needed. There has been a bill before the legislature the last two sessions for the establishment of county libraries along the lines of the Union county plan.

Springfield, Ill.—In a recent examination of the records of 2500 cases at the Lincoln State School and Colony, an institution for feeble minded at Lincoln, Ill., 132 individual examples of relationship, principally of the brother and sister type, were found, says an announcement of the State Board of Charities. There are 273 children closely related to each other at the institution.

Among the 132 is one family of five brothers and sisters, and it is probable that three more children living at home are feeble minded. This is the most pronounced example at the institution of close blood relationship.

The next in order are those families represented by four brothers and sisters. The records show eleven sets of four children of each family. There are eighteen cases of three in a family. Of two members of the same family the school has 99 examples.

There are innumerable instances in which the records show that cousins, uncles, aunts, brothers, sisters, parents or other members of the immediate or more distant relationship are feeble minded or insane at home.

One of the cases in the institution is that of a woman who has been married twice and has with her feeble minded children by both marriages. There is one girl whose entire family is feeble minded.

Springfield, Ill.—The recent decision of the Illinois Supreme Court in the Chicago & West Towns Railway company case has an important bearing, attorneys say, on another case which is of great importance to Chicago, a case involving the power of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission to regulate surface lines in Chicago.

In the West Towns Railway Company the court held the commission had no power to compel the company to return to rates in effect July 1, 1913, unless it found those rates to be reasonable and the present rates to be unreasonable.

The case involving control of the Chicago surface lines by the commission is entitled, "City of Chicago vs. Public Utilities Commission." In this case the commission attempted by order to compel the surface lines to put on trailers during the rush hours and sought to enforce other regulations for relief of congestion. The Cook county circuit court restrained enforcement of the commission's order on the ground that the commission had no jurisdiction over street railway lines.

Basis for this contention was found in Section 4, Article 11 of the State Constitution, which declares in substance that the general assembly shall pass no law granting the right to construct or operate a street railroad within any city, town or village within the state without first requiring the proposed company to obtain consent of local authorities having control of the street to be occupied. The city of Chicago claimed this constitutional provision took from the general assembly authority to regulate street railways.

Upon this point, in the West Town Railway Company case, the court said:

"The Public Utilities act does not violate Section 4, Article 11 of our constitution. That provision is simply a limitation of the general powers of the legislature and in one part only. It provides in substance that the legislature may not grant the right to construct and operate a street railroad within a municipality without requiring the consent of the local authorities having control of the street or highways proposed to be occupied. That section of the constitution does not, by implication or otherwise, attempt to divest the state of its paramount authority and control of the streets and highways. It is equally clear that that section of the constitution does not deprive the legislature of the powers to fix rates for such complaints."

Attorneys believe this decision will control in the Chicago case and that the commission will have power to regulate Chicago's street railway lines unless the court restrains the commission on some other grounds.

Fillmore, Ill.—A big eagle, cooped in a cage in the restaurant of Ray Isbell here is waiting patiently for some zoo to give it comparative freedom.

The bird, measuring seven feet between wing tips, was wounded by Isbell after farmers had complained of losing poultry and pigs. They had reported to Fillmore sportsmen that eagles were taking them. A few days ago one of the birds was seen circling over a farm. A telephone call brought several men with guns from Fillmore. Isbell, watching in the edge of a strip of timber, shot the bird as it soared across the tree tops. One of its wings was broken. It was bandaged up by a veterinary and the eagle is convalescing.

If the vote tomorrow were to be cast for most popular roofing, instead of for the election of national officials, there would be an overwhelming plurality in favor of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing.

This is indicated by the fact that "The General" makes 1/3 of all the asphalt roll roofing made in America. The balance is "scattered" among 39 other manufacturers.

Each year CERTAIN-TEED rolls up a strikingly increasing number of advocates, because this type of roof is coming to be recognized as the most efficient covering for all kinds of buildings, with either flat or pitched roofs.

Certain-teed Roofing is clean and sanitary, costs less to buy, less to lay, less to maintain and less per year of life. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). It actually lasts longer.

The secret of this long life lies in the quality of the roofing felt, and the asphalt saturation. Roofings do not wear out—their life depends upon the length of time they retain the saturation. CERTAIN-TEED is made of the best quality of roofing felt; and is thoroughly saturated with the General's own blend of soft asphalt, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to the ordinary roofing.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

VOTE "YES" FIRST SAYS INSTITUTE

Other States' Tax Intangible, Values at Collectable Rates and Lift Tax Burdens Off Real Estate, Farmers' Institute Explains.

TAX AMENDMENT IS NEEDED

Amendment Was Drafted by a Representative Body of Which the Late A. P. Grout of Winchester Was an Earnest Worker and Was Well Considered in All Respects.

"VOTE 'YES' ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" is the advice given to Illinois farmers and taxpayers in a bulletin just sent out by the Illinois Farmers' Institute from Springfield. The bulletin reads:

Farmers of Illinois should remember to vote "Yes" on November 7 for the proposed Amendment to the State Constitution relating to personal property taxation and commonly known as the "Tax Amendment." This reminder is pursuant to resolution unanimously adopted at Decatur last February at the twenty-first annual meeting of the Illinois State Farmers' Institute, and reading as follows:

"RESOLVED, That we recommend the adoption at the next general election on November 7, of the pending Amendment to the Revenue Article of the Illinois State Constitution, in order that the General Assembly may have the necessary authority to revise our Revenue Laws and adjust the present unequal burdens of taxation."

The proposed Amendment will make no change of itself in the present tax laws but will give to the Illinois General Assembly authority to classify personal property for taxation—an authority granted in the Constitutions of 21 other states, including New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Minnesota, Maryland, Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, etc. The Amendment if adopted will remove the restrictions now in the Constitution which are responsible for land and visible property bearing a constantly greater share of the total tax burden, and for the escape of intangible wealth, notes, stocks, bonds, etc., because laws cannot now be passed to tax these latter classes of property rigidly and surely and at the same time at a rate which will not confiscate one-third or more of the income.

Other states tax these modern forms of intangible wealth so that they pay in proportion to their ability, deriving large revenues which lessen the share of the burden upon real estate. Double taxation evils which harass the farmer in Illinois, also are largely remedied.

Illinois can profit by none of these modern methods of taxation unless the voters on Nov. 7 vote "Yes" for the adoption of the amendment to the constitution. The amendment was drafted by a representative tax commission, of which the late A. P. Grout of Winchester was a member. The legislature has submitted the amendment just as it was drawn. It is now up to the voters. A majority of all those voting for members of the general assembly is required to adopt this amendment. The amendment will appear at the top of the "little ballot." An unmarked "little ballot" counts against the amendment.

Those who believe that it is time to change from a tax system in force since 1818 and universally condemned, and who wish to be sure that the proposed amendment is carried by the people, should mark the "little ballot" first of all, mark it "Yes" for the amendment, and urge their friends and neighbors to do the same.—Illinois Farmers' Institute.

Some who go to the polls on November 7, may feel that only a tax student should vote on the Tax Amendment. But taxation is the business of all citizens, and the indorsement given this question by students and experts of Illinois and other states is a good guarantee. No system could be more unequal than the present. Vote "Yes" and change it.

Holders of the great bulk of intangible wealth are not paying taxes in Illinois. Why? We are attempting to enforce a tax system found impossible wherever tried. Vote "Yes" to modernize tax laws.

Voters who think they are not opposing the Tax Amendment if they refrain from marking their ballot against it are greatly in error. A failure to vote counts as much against the amendment as if the voter marked his ballot "No."

No vote on the constitutional amendment is a vote "No"—a vote against yourself. Mark your "little" ballot "Yes."

Do not vote to continue tax evils by failing to mark your "little" ballot. Vote "Yes" for the tax amendment.

Do you want the tax burden on real estate lightened? Vote "Yes" for tax equality.

Vote "Yes" on the tax amendment to stop the wholesale exemption of intangible personal property.

Don't forget to vote "Yes" on the tax amendment—first on the "little" ballot.

NEWS NOTES ON SPORT.

Chicago.—Practically every member of the Northwestern University eleven, which surprised "Big Nine" football followers by recently defeating the University of Chicago for the first time within fifteen years, are working their way through school.

The players are making big sacrifices for the success of the team. Mulder, right guard, is obliged to arise at 3 a. m. to start in on his outside duties. And he's busy until 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when he reports for football practice. Captain Driscoll, who many critics believe will be chosen a member of the All-Western eleven, is particularly busy doing a full line of odd jobs to earn his way.

Chicago.—Appeal has been made to Major General Funston, in command of the border troops, to obtain the release of Captain McDevitt of the Minnesota National Guards, who has been assisting in the coaching of the Northwestern University football squad.

Captain McDevitt was ordered to rejoin his command at the expiration of a two-week furlough. Coach Murphy of the Northwestern eleven and his associates are hopeful of obtaining his release.

Chicago.—The seating capacity of the Chicago National League park will be increased to 24,000, according to plans announced by President Weeghman. Six thousand additional grandstand seats will be constructed.

Detroit.—Willie Heston, the famous Michigan half-back, who is a candidate for police justice in Detroit, broke up his campaign program recently to assist Coach Yost in drilling the University of Michigan football eleven.

Lawrence, Kan.—In order to make the backfield men of the University of Kansas squad lift their knees higher when running, Assistant Coach "Potsy" Clark, former star quarterback at the University of Illinois, has inaugurated a system of having the men step in boxes. A row of boxes, three feet square and eighteen inches deep, are placed in a row a stride apart and each night on McCook field the backfield men can be seen running down this lane of boxes, lifting their knees and feet high in the air on each step.

Topeka, Kan.—There is one football player in Kansas, at least, whose mother is his trainer. He is Ralph Hope, halfback on the Washburn College team here.

"If all mothers were as enthusiastic about seeing their boys play football," said Coach Kennedy, "we'd have some different playing. Hope's mother sees he eats the right food, sleeps the right hours and is brimful of the right kind of enthusiasm."

Topeka, Kan.—Plans for a new baseball circuit in Kansas and Oklahoma have been started here. The proposed circuit is scheduled to include Oklahoma City, Wichita, Topeka, Tulsa, Joplin, Muskogee, Fort Smith and Springfield. Since both Wichita and Topeka had a disastrous season last year in the Western league it has been suggested that this league be made Class B. The total population of its towns would be 430,000.

Bloomington, Ind.—Among the freshmen at Indiana University who enter the school with athletic records is Benton I. Springer of Robinson, Ill., whose brothers have won places in the athletic events of the University of Chicago and Washington and Jefferson University. Springer, who is 19 years old, weighs 180 pounds and is six feet one inch in height. He played football as half-back on a high school team for four years, and also made a record as high school basketball players. His batting average in baseball was .447.

Greencastle, Ind.—DePauw University is mourning the loss of Captain Woodruff of the football team, especially in view of the approaching game with Wabash at Indianapolis, November 11. Woodruff will be unable to play again this season, it is said, because of an injury to his knee. DePauw is without a captain for the second time this year. Injuries to other of DePauw's players has kept many of them on the bench this season.

Toledo, Ohio.—When the 1917 state bowling tournament opens here February 7, for a three-day meet, approximately 300 teams will be entered.

INQUEST HELD OVER HENDERSON JACKSON'S BODY

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict In Accordance With Facts Already Announced.

Owing to the circumstances surrounding the death of Henderson, alias "Spec" Jackson Saturday, Coroner Wright empaneled a jury and held an inquest Monday.

According to the evidence Henderson was engaged in hauling monument blocks from the Chicago & Alton freight house to the Jacksonville Monument company. When the wagon reached the corner of East College and Hardin avenues one of the rocks tipped over. Jackson was riding on the rocks and lost his balance and fell off with the rock. It is not thought that the rock fell on Jackson and his injuries came from the fall to the pavement.

When he was removed to his home he was attended by Drs. Kniebrow and Beverly. It was found that the bladder was ruptured.

The jury was composed of Leon Smith, Oscar Williams, Hal Mathews, Harry Turner, O. H. Wallace and Thomas Jordan. Richard Reynolds was engaged by the coroner to represent him. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Funeral services were held from the Second Christian church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Raphael Hancock, assisted by the Rev. E. L. Scruggs, Rev. H. H. DeWitt, Rev. C. A. Carter and Rev. E. M. Morris. Music was furnished by the choir of the church. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Hazel Carter and Mrs. Deborah Lewis. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery, the bearers being David Harris, Frank Waffel, Edward Burton, Henry Davis, Arthur Pyles and Joseph Moley.

NEW STATE AID ROAD NEARS COMPLETION

Grading and Concrete Work Shows Up Well—Pitches dug at Needed Places.

A notable enterprise and one which The Journal hopes marks a new era in the highways of Morgan county is the 6½ miles of improvement now rapidly nearing completion between the west end of the Lafayette avenue pavement and the Mauvaisterre creek on the Meredosa road. It includes suitable grading, concrete culverts and bridges and approaches to residences and fields.

The contract was let in July to the Cocking Cement company of this city for about $18,000. The grading work was let to F. J. Blackburn. The state pays half and the county half. The contract is done under the supervision of State Engineer Fred Terrant, who has seventeen counties under his jurisdiction, and J. R. McAteer, resident engineer. Edward Williamson is the main foreman of graders and William Zastrow is concrete subcontractor. A great variety of tools are used and each has its place. Of course the plow is much in evidence, slip and wheel scrapers, graders, levelers, drags, iron sloper to finish off the sides of the banks and finally the steam roller to pack all down solidly. The humble horse has played a large part in the work, while gasoline and steam traction engines have been much used. From ten to twenty men have been employed and ten to fifteen teams.

A Journal reporter drove over the work and examined it and to all appearances it has been well done. There are eighteen culverts, comprising from seven to fifty-four cubic yards of concrete each and sixty-five entries. The latter are across the edge of the road to residences or fields. They are made of twelve-inch concrete the bed at the proper depth and overlaid with a concrete arch so that the water will have easy course and the entry to the desired places will be easy.

The general plan has been to plow along the side of the road, making a ditch as deep as circumstances will permit and then rounding or grading the roadbed, leaving it slightly rolling, but not enough so as to be dangerous and there is no loose dirt left in the middle as is so often the case with roads in the county. The surface must be dragged smooth and then the steam roller is to pass over it, making it as solid as possible. As the year is so far gone, the oiling will not be done till spring.

At several places special work has been done. Distillery hill, some four miles from the city, was a bad place. With dynamite they loosened the earth at the sides of the hill, made the cut much wider, removed the iron bridge and put in the largest concrete culvert yet and then graded it up so that there is not nearly as much of a hill as there was before the work was done. The culvert at this place is fifty-four feet long, six feet high and six feet in the clear inside. The banks have been sloped down so that one would hardly recognize the place. A few places here and there along the road have been used immediately after a rain and these will all be dragged and steam rolled so they will be left smooth.

Special work was also done at the Collins hill, which has long been a place feared and dreaded by drivers of automobiles. It has been widened, a good track wide enough for two cars to pass each other, and on the north side a good part of the hill has been cut out, but a concrete ditch has been laid to prevent any possible washing of the track. This will be one of the best improvements made yet and a boon to drivers in that locality. Several accidents have occurred here, owing to the condition of the road, but the chances are now reduced to a minimum. There are several similar long, crooked hills in the county and it is a great misfortune that the roads are so laid out, but such is the case. Another good piece of work is the grading of the road just east of the creek. Heretofore that has been very low and swampy, but from the hill across the creek over 1200 cubic yards of earth were taken and the driveway has been graded up several feet, making a great improvement.

Mr. Cocking says there is some money left in the fund and he hopes and probably will have the work continued a mile west of the creek and the next effort will be to get it carried on to Chapin, so that there will be two definite points of beginning of the improvement. Mr. Cocking and his men have shown ability, skill and energy in this work and are much to be commended and quite a compliment has been paid them by the state engineer, who has been on the work but a very few times, stating that they didn't especially need watching.

MAKE INQUIRIES ABOUT KILLING OF DR. FISHER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The state department is making inquiries it was learned today, of the Carranza government and thru British and French consular officers in Mexico to establish the facts regarding the killing of Dr. H. C. Fisher, an American, said to have been murdered by bandits at Santa Rosalia.

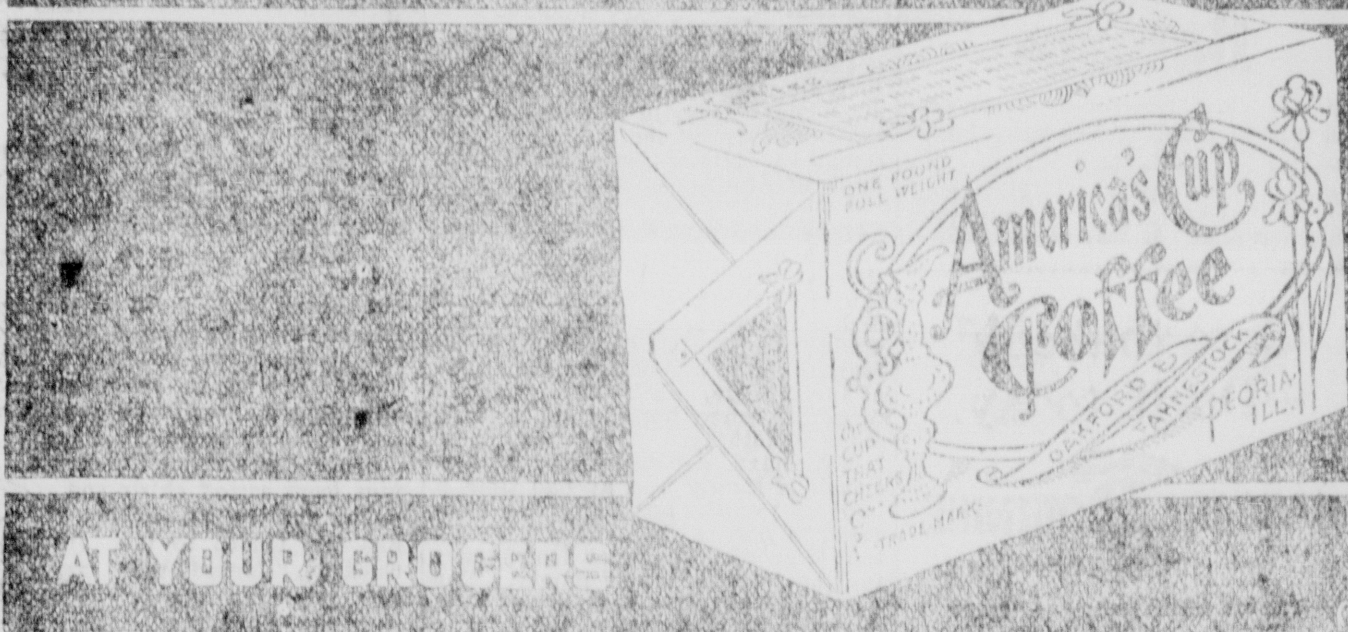

The department had received no information today regarding the reported killing of several other Americans in Chihuahua City or in Santa Rosalia.

MAKE FOREIGN TRADE FIGURES PUBLIC.

"SUNNYSIDE" SCHOOL IS IN JOY PRAIRIE

Instruction There is Well Named—Grounds and Building in Excellent Condition

Whenever you are depressed look on the sunny side of life and be happy. That is an excellent motto and probably was the reason why the directors or people on the north side of Joy Prairie named their school "Sunnyside," and it is well named and well deserves the title. As has already been said the Journal is not in the business of fault-finding but prefer to commend what is good and will begin with the playground at this school. Comparisons are odious, or "odorous" as the great poet, Shakespeare, says, but it will be safe to say that the grounds about this schoolhouse are unexcelled. They are ample in size, very ample, well shaded with good trees and the lawn is in good order with good outbuildings. The directors of this school, Messrs. William Stumberg, Edward Joy and John Bolcott, have certainly done a good part by the pupils of that school. The light in the building has been arranged according to law, a modern heating and ventilating plant put in, a good library furnished and supplied with reference books and small encyclopedia and there are maps and charts as far as needed. The entrance has been changed to the south side of the building so that the north wind will not blow in when the door is opened. A new floor has been laid and new desks put in place so that if the pupils of that school don't get ahead it will surely not be the fault of the directors. Pictures of great men adorn the walls, the features of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and other great men being conspicuous.

A visit to this school was a source of pleasure and the writer will not soon forget it. The pupils were arranged by the teacher, Miss Edith Tichnor, so that they could see the pictures the caller had brought to show them an they gave very good attention to all that was said. To them. Certainly they will have some idea of a part of the great lands across the mighty deep and the writer hopes they will be able to see it some time in their lives. Both teacher and pupils treated the visitor most polite. The pupils are:

Charlie Hill,
Florence Hill,
Lee Hill,
Angie Joy,
Alice Wilson,
Cori Mathis,
Fred Mathis,
Nolly Mathis,
Elmer Crabtree,
Alvin Sanderson,
Roberta Reid,
Elizabeth Acom,

GRANDMOTHER KNOWS

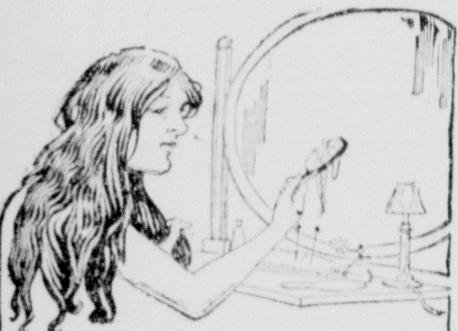

There Was Nothing So Good for Coughing and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin. Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

Is Your Hair Getting Thin?

If your hair is coming out badly, breaking off or turning gray, some of the five vital elements—oxygen, nitrogen, hydrogen, carbon or sulphur are missing. Supply these to the scalp and hair roots by using

VOLA-VITA

Your hair will then, naturally, begin to grow in its places. It will take on a new life and stop falling out. Gradually the youthful color will return and your hair will have a delightful luster and softness. Yet, with all its effectiveness, Volu-Vita contains no alcohol, for alcohol falsely stimulates, but eventually burns out and kills the roots.

Volu-Vita is sold and guaranteed by all good druggists and Volu-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, at $1.00 a bottle.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant relief from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two over night just to keep right. Try them 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Use Zemo for Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 25c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, black heads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

WHITEMAN CHOSE A LIFE OF CRIME

Has Been Titled the "Prince of Rogues"—Last Charge Is That of Attempt to Defraud Amelia State Bank.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Alonzo J. Whiteman, known as the "Prince of Rogues," is again behind lock and key. The use of the made in an attempt to defraud the Amelia State Bank of Amelia, Ohio, is the charge lodged against him. The police believe they have evidence sufficient to keep him behind the bars for a long time to come. But they have not the same thing before many a time, and this king of confidence men has made good his escape either from the meshes of the law or from the hands of the officers. He is both wily and desperate when brought to bay and stops at nothing.

Whiteman, a college graduate, of excellent family and at one time a man of wealth, has for years been rated as one of the cleverest crooks that ever made bankers feel uneasy for the safety of their money. The Pinkertons wrote a book about him. He has been arrested time after time in various cities throughout the country. Generally he has come out successful in his tilts with the law.

Whiteman is now about 55 years old. He was born in Danville, N. Y., where his father was one of the leading men of the town, being president of two banks and the owner of several large factories. The son graduated from Hamilton College in 1881, and then entered Columbia Law School, from which institution he was graduated with honors. After being admitted to the bar he went to Duluth, where his father owned large property interests, and rapidly made friends. In 1884 he was nominated to the Minnesota legislature and carried the city of Duluth by the largest majority ever given to any candidate for an elective office at that place. As a member of the legislature he drafted and secured the passage of an election law which was known by his own name and which served as a model for several states.

At the age of 24 he was elected mayor of Duluth. Later he was made chairman of the State Democratic Committee and was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 1888. The following year he was an unsuccessful candidate for congress from the Fifth Minnesota district. By this time he had accumulated a fortune of over a million dollars.

Then came the turning point in his picturesque career. After his wife had secured a separation, Whiteman rapidly plunged into a fast life, flinging away his money recklessly and engaging in several questionable deals. He started to frequent race tracks—not to wager on horses, but with the deliberate intention of swindling bookmakers. And while engaged in this work got in with a set of forgers and check raisers who were engaged in the manufacture of counterfeit pool tickets. Within a few months his legal knowledge and activity made him the leader of this gang, and although still possessed of a large sum of money, he showed no hesitation in swindling bankers as well as bookmakers. Within a few years his name was a familiar one to the police throughout America and Europe. Whiteman has been arrested more than 100 times in the last twenty-five years, has been indicted probably fifty times and convicted twenty times, with penalties totaling more than fifty years in the penitentiary, and during all this period has served but two short sentences, one in Chicago and one in New York state.

The man has raised hundreds of checks from insignificant to large amounts, but has never yet been known by the police to commit more than any check or drafts himself, always employing for this purpose a man who had no previous criminal record.

He is temperate as to liquor, a constant reader of the best books, and carries on his criminal work with an utter disregard of consequence, believing himself to be practically immune from punishment. He is a churchgoer, and has been known to attend services while the police of the city he was in at the time were searching for him high and low. Once, after a conviction in Binghamton, N. Y., he appealed to the courts to suspend sentence, announcing that he was about to begin a series of evangelical services, that the passing of the particular check for which he had then been arrested was "an error of judgment" and that if he were locked up his Christian work would be seriously interfered with. The court suspended sentence, and Whiteman actually did start in on an evangelical tour in various small towns of New York state and converted a number of people. It was proved afterward that in the middle of this work he got away with the bank account of a Presbyterian church amounting to over $4,000.

THE MYSTERIOUS FOE

A Series of Stories About Some Illinois Men, Women and Children. Issued by the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis

SIXTH EPISODE.

Farmer Brown is puzzled.

All his life he has worked hard. For nine months out of every twelve his average work-day has consisted of fifteen to seventeen hours.

Mrs. Brown has made him an ideal farmer's wife. Uncomplainingly she has borne her share of drudgery. She has literally roasted herself over the kitchen stove, cooking for farm hands. She has for years, systematically labored three times a week with the old-fashioned dasher churn.

She has sewed miles of carpet rags from castoff shirts and other articles of wear.

She has tended to the chickens, "slopped" the pigs and often helped with the milking.

She has borne Farmer Brown four children, three boys and one girl. And it is about Kate, the "baby" of the family, that Mr. Brown is worried. She is eight years old now but is no better developed physically than a child of six.

The boys of the family, aged sixteen, fourteen and ten, are fairly husky youngsters although William, the youngest, is much inclined to spindly legs, and frequent sick "spells."

It isn't very often that Farmer Brown gets down to downright earnest consideration of the welfare of his family.

It is much easier for him to let his mind run along the accustomed channels. The care of his broad marauding alfalfa, the best time to "break" the east forty, have been to him, more interesting if not more important than the rearing of his children.

Not that Farmer Brown doesn't love his children, because he does.

It is simply because he has always taken it for granted that they would "get along all right" while on the other hand, he knew that his farm and his stock had to be looked after if he would make them pay.

He has forgotten that Kate was a "bottle baby" and that the milk given her was from a cow that later became so skinny and useless that she was killed for her hide because the butcher refused to buy her.

It hasn't occurred to Farmer Brown yet that Baby Kate was nurtured on milk from a tuberculous cow and that her condition has been made worse because all of the Browns sleep a good portion of the year with their bedroom windows tightly closed.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Substantial and very flattering recognition of two American women artists has lately come from foreign governments. Miss Kate Carl, the American painter who became well known thru her portrait of the late Empress Dowager of China Tzu Hai, which was exhibited at the St. Louis Exposition and is now in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, has been commissioned to paint a portrait of President Li Yuan-hung, who is now giving the artist several sittings a week. Mrs. Sally James Farman, New York sculptor, is the other American artist similarly honored. She has been commissioned by the Government of Venezuela for an equestrian statue of Bolivar, liberator of Venezuela, which is to be the gift of that country to the City of New York as a token of admiration and friendship from the southern republic to her sister of the north. Mrs. Farman was the sculptor of the frieze in the Pan-American building at Washington commemorating the discovery of America, and her work is greatly admired among Latin Americans.

A maid who has been 87 years in the service of one family has been discovered by the president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, now carrying on a campaign to find out and honor the champion long-distance stayer in domestic service. This gem was born in the family of Mrs. George Clifford Boarnan, who may next come in for honors as the champion "mistress with whom a maid stayed all her life," and found the air so good that she never looked for another job.

Tonight, election eve, Detroit women will gather in various churches of that city and spend the entire night in prayer for the success of the prohibition forces at the polls. The service, which will be the first of the kind in the history of the city, was first thought of by the women of the First Presbyterian church, whose idea was enthusiastically taken up by several other congregations.

Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilkes of New York, daughter of the late Betty Green, has not inherited along with her famous mother's millions the Spartan simplicity of tastes which characterized the foremost woman financier of her times. Mrs. Wilkes recently bought a country home in Connecticut for a quarter of a million and a town house in New York for more than three times that sum—a far cry from the one bare room in unpretentious boarding houses that was the famous mother's choice during most of her years of residence in the most luxuriant metropolis of the age.

Mrs. Jean Wright Swope, who died recently in New York City, and whose body was brought for burial to her home city of Louisville, Ky., has been called by Col. Henry Waterson, the famous editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, the greatest poet of the south. Mrs. Swope, who had not been writing lately because of advanced age and impaired health, was revered throughout the south as a poet whose inspiration was truly southern, and as a woman who truly embodied its ideals of gentle womanhood.

Interesting reports come from the Philippines regarding sport among the Filipino schoolgirls, and the strenuous way they have "gone in for" the great American game. As good a baseball club as there is in any young women's educational institution in the United States is matched by the teams in most of the girls' schools in Uncle Sam's Far East islands. This statement is vouched for by the sixteenth annual report of the director of education in the Philippines. The girls have championship games at which spectators must be turned away so great is the interest they inspire. A little Igorot girl at the bar, with her teeth clenched and her jaw set a la Ty Cobb, is one of the wondrous spectacles resulting from the introduction of American civilization to the little brown people. The introduction of athletics among the Filipinos has accomplished many desirable things in the schools, among boys and girls both, promoting school spirit, friendliness where there was once tribal warfare, more regularity in attendance and a general state of health and well-being previously unknown.

Democratic Prosperity Before the Great War Began

Closed factories, idle men, empty freight cars and hard times were the results of Democratic Tariff Laws. In 1914, millions of men had no jobs and thousands of factories were closed or running on part time only.

Heavy war taxes were imposed in time of peace by the Democratic Administration to meet expenses. Public charities were taxed beyond their ability, to aid the families of men who were out of work.

Then came a great rush of war orders for arms, ammunition, cannon, munitions, automobiles, food, hospital equipment, etc., to supply the millions of soldiers locked in a death grapple of deadly hate. The flow of manufactured goods from European factories ceased. The markets of the world clamored for American products to meet their needs.

The war proved a greater protection to American factories than any Tariff Law. But what will happen when the war ends?

WHEAT PRICES RALLY AFTER EARLY DECLINE

Market Closes Strong With December at $1.81 and May at $1.86 1/2
—Corn, Oats and Flourish Gain.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Unsettled weather in Canada hampering threshers and shippers led to an uptick in wheat prices today after an early decline due largely to Argentine rains.
The market closed strong with December at $1.84 and May at $1.86 1/2.
Corn gained 1/2 to 3/4; oats 1/2 and provisions 1/2 to 1/4.

Signs of improved export demand at the United States seaboard contributed to the late strength in wheat in this connection, it was pointed out that world shipments were about 3,000,000 bushels under last year's, and that the amount of wheat on ocean passage was also largely short of the corresponding total in 1915.

Corn responded alike to the early weakness and the late firmness of wheat. Increasing receipts of corn were counter-balanced by fresh export sales.

Oats awayed with other cereals.
Bulls contended that the visible supply of oats has about reached the crest for this season.

Higher quotation on hogs and consent provisions upgrade. Lard, especially in demand.

Every grocery store has its customers who order POSTUM regularly instead of coffee.

They are former coffee drinkers who, for health's sake, changed their table drink.

If you suspect that coffee contributes to your discomfort or illness, ask the grocer for the names of several POSTUM users in your neighborhood; get in touch with them and hear their story.

Or, secure a tin of INSTANT POSTUM and try it on the family table for ten days instead of coffee.

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

FROM WILBERFORCE COLLEGE

Rev. and Mr. John W. Kirk have received the following letter from Helen Halthman who is attending Wilberforce college in Ohio. Rev. Kirk is always interested in boys and girls who have been in his Sunday school and no doubt the many friends of Miss Halthman here also will be glad to hear how she is getting along in her work.

"THE FORCE"

Dear Friends: This opportunity affords me great pleasure in writing to you all. I have now been here long enough to have formed some opinion of the school and I can say that my opinion is none other than the best. I suppose you would all like to know something of the school, and so I shall try and tell you something of it.

There are, on the main campus, eight or more buildings. Four, Mitchell, Shorter, Arnett and Emery Hall, are dormitories. O'Neil is also a dormitory and recitation building.

Galloway contains class rooms, the superintendent's office and the school auditorium. The library is a practically new building and is known as "Carnegie Library." Poin-dexter is the art and carpentry building.

Mitchell Hall is the home of the senior girls, and is very beautiful, both inside and out. Is lighted by electricity and gas and heated by steam.

Shorter Hall is the oldest building on the campus and is a boys dormitory, containing also, science and mathematics class rooms.

Arnett Hall is the dormitory for girls whose homes are in the state of Ohio.

And last but by far not least is my own home, Emery Hall. It will accommodate eighty girls with two in a room but this year in some rooms there are three girls so that there are about eighty-five girls in the hall.

O'Neil Hall is also a boys dormitory and contains class rooms as well.

The dining rooms are in Emery, Arnett and at a private dwelling across the street. Part of the boys eat at Arnett, part at Emery and the rest at the Reed house across the road.

The Science laboratories are splendidly equipped with all necessary apparatus.

Study hours begin at seven forty-five a. m. and last until eleven forty-five a. m. We have fifteen minutes chapel with dinner at twelve. Classes begin at one o'clock p. m. and last until four p. m. and supper is called at five p. m.

Breakfast is at 6:15 a. m., altho the rising bell rings at 5:30. At seven a. m. our rooms must be ready for inspection. At seven p. m. everyone must be in her room. At ten the "lights out" whistle blows, that is the whistle which means that every girl's room must be darkened.

I do not want, however, to give the impression that it is all work and no play. For we often have a jolly time. Tuesday evening (Oct. 31) we had a hallowe'en party and had a splendid time. On Sunday afternoon after 2:30 we may do anything we care to just so it is quietly done.

And now I should like to thank all those who helped me to come to this school, which has been as a vision to me for the last few years. I only hope that many others may have the chance which my mother has sacrificed to give me and which many of my friends have promoted.

In conclusion I may say that, according to the "Force" vocabulary I do not want my "privileges cut" and as the whistle has blown and I have turned out, and relighted my light, I had better say,

Good night.

Yours truly,

Helen B. Halthman.

HAS YOUR COST OF LIVING BEEN REDUCED?

In its 1912 Platform the Democratic Party said that it would reduce the cost of living. Has it kept that promise?

Flour is $9.50 a barrel wholesale and the price of bread is going up. Potatoes, meats and nearly all food products are higher in price than at any time since the Civil War. Cotton and woolen goods have gone up from 50% to 70%.

Everything has gone up but salaries.

If it is hard to pay these high prices now, what will you do when the great European war ends and the unprotected American market is flooded with low priced goods made by men and women who are compelled to work 14 hours a day at very low wages to keep from actual starvation?

The terrible European war protects us from European competition now—more effectively than any tariff—but what will happen when the war ends?
